WELCOME TO PUTRAJAYA, MALAYSIA

Putrajaya, or its full name Federal Territory of Putrajaya, is the federal administrative center of Malaysia, replacing Kuala Lumpur in 1999 as the administrative capital. Located 25 kilometers south of Kuala Lumpur, Putrajaya is a smart city within a garden, featuring a futuristic metropolis that houses the federal government's administrative center. It is the third Federal Territory in Malaysia.

Located at the heart of the Multimedia Super Corridor, Putrajaya covers an area of 4,931 hectares and was developed at a cost of RM20.5 billion. It includes the Federal Government Administrative Center, residential areas, commercial facilities, social amenities, and religious institutions.

The main elements in the formation of Putrajaya are to provide a more efficient transportation system using modern design and technology. The objectives of this transportation strategy are as follows:

- To create a well-guarded environment that is free from noise and air pollution.
- To maximize the use of "pollution-free" transportation and provide a well-organized and systematic road network, suitable for future conditions.
- To prioritize the use of public transportation and consequently reduce the reliance on private vehicles.
- To promote the concept of "Park-and-ride" and encourage drivers to park their vehicles at specific areas and utilize the provided public transportation to reach their destinations
